Dedicated to the Victims of October 7, 2023/ 22 Tishrei 5784

And The Lives of the Innocent Lost in Its Aftermath

Your Memories Continue to Endure.

We Will Never Forget You.

תנצב"ה

The sheer devastation of October 7 and its aftermath continues to loom large for the Jewish people only a year after its occurrence.

An entire nation was mobilized overnight. In the diaspora, we sent duffle bag upon duffle bag of supplies to support displaced families; many have yet to return to their homes. We continue to demonstrate our concern about the hostages and grieve those who were murdered in barbaric acts of terrorism.

The news changes daily. It's all so much to take in. We've hardly had a moment to grieve.

This year, as we compiled our Yizkor Book for the holy days, all of us present in this moment are certainly mindful of our own personal grief and loss. The pages of this book contain the names of our family members, friends, and loved ones whose presence we miss.

However, looming large as we begin the year 5785 is also our collective national grief that we share together. So many names are well known to us. Hersh Goldberg-Polin attended Camp Ramah Darom each year with his family. Rose Lubin was raised in our Atlanta community. There are still so many others. The sheer magnitude of the grief is overwhelming. There are too many losses for us to even try to count (no doubt there are others by the time I have written this letter and the printing of this book).

With all of this in mind, I know that it is hard to slow down. But let us try, this Yom Kippur, to take a moment to process all that has happened. Let us recall our fallen members of the house of Israel like they are our own sons and daughters. Let us commit to learning their stories so that we may live our lives according to their heroic example.

Tehi Nishmatam Tzrurot Bitzror HaChaim. May their memories be bound up in the bonds of life eternal.

B'shalom,

Rabbi Dan Dorsch

Life's Whispers

Once upon a time the Eagle, the Lion and the great Fish met at the water's edge.

To the Eagle they asked, "What do you leave behind?" The Eagle replied, "I leave behind an empire of mountaintops, swirling winds and endless heavens."

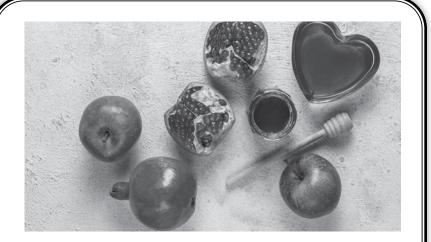

To the Lion they asked, "What do you leave behind?" The Lion replied, "I leave behind an empire of jungles, forests and endless plains."

To the Great Fish they asked, "What do you leave behind?" The Great Fish replied, "I leave behind an empire of rivers, seas and oceans. "

As the Eagle, Lion and Great Fish pondered their answers, a butterfly floated by on a breath of air, its rainbow wings glistening in the sunlight.

"Tell us, Oh Butterfly," they bellowed haughtily, "what do you leave behind?"

The Butterfly gracefully settled on a slender blade of grass. "I have no empire – no endless heavens, no endless oceans. I am but a tiny, fragile creature but what I leave behind for those who have met me is an endless memory of unselfish beauty."

Etz Chaim Sisterhood Etz Chaim Sisterhood is a part of an ongoing tradition since the founding of Congregation Etz Chaim in 1975.

For almost fifty years, Sisterhood has been strengthened and continues to serve our synagogue and the broader community b'yachad - together.

B'yachad - Together our mission is Tikkun Olam in the broader community. Here are some of the things we do.

- Help to support Rebecca's Tent women's homeless shelter with meals and personal hygiene "blessing bags."
- Provide handmade knitted and crocheted winter items to MUST Ministries - a volunteer organization helping individuals, families, and children who are experiencing poverty in Cobb and Cherokee Counties.
- Raise funds to support breast cancer awareness by supporting breast cancer survivors and their loved ones through our annual "Pinktober" Mah Jongg event.

B'yachad - Together we play a vital role in the support of the synagogue community.

- We provide funding for projects and programs in the synagogue including the newly updated synagogue website and artwork on display like the prayer and water pitchers at the hand washing station in the Hammer-Tritt Social Hall.
- We provide funds to support our preschool, religious school, and youth programs.
- Along with the Men's Club, we give a silver yad to each of our B'nai Mitzvah students for their special day.
- We support evening minyan helping those observing yahrzeit or in mourning..

B'yachad - Together we cross the generations and come together as friends. Sisterhood opportunities include:

- Our fall Sisterhood Membership Kickoff event which this year was an engaging evening filled with meaning and purpose. Paula Coplon led us in a mindfulness exercise, helping us to truly know how we can center ourselves as individuals and also to know how important and helpful we are as a unit when we come together to support one another.
- Partnerships with other Etz Chaim affinity groups, including the annual Trivia Night co-sponsored by the Men's Club, partnerships with the Social Action committee and College Connection to Get Out the Vote, as well as partnering with Lilmode.
- Continued learning opportunities with Rabbi Shalom Lewis through our sponsorship of Shalom in the Shul programming.
- Socializing and learning combined in our monthly Book Club, featuring lively conversations, from the light-hearted to the serious, about member-selected books, with authors periodically joining via Zoom.
